

DePaul University's Program in African and Black Diaspora
Studies and Department of History Present

BLACK HISTORY MONTH AT DEPAUL February 2008

FEBRUARY 14, 2008, NOON
JOHN T. RICHARDSON LIBRARY
ROOM 400
LUNCH AND VIDEO PRESENTATION

Howard Lindsey,
History Department,
DePaul University

“Meltdown of a
Chocolate City:
New Orleans
After Katrina”

Howard Lindsey is author of A History of Black America.

FEBRUARY 29, 2008
1:00 PM
DEPAUL UNIVERSITY
ART MUSEUM
2350 N. KENMORE AVE.

RECEPTION TO FOLLOW

Co-sponsored by African and Black Diaspora Studies,
History, and Women and
Gender Studies

Stephanie Camp, History
Department, University of Washington

“American Beauty: Slavery and the Making of an Ideal”

Stephanie Camp is author of
*Closer to Freedom: Enslaved
Women and Everyday Resistance in the Plantation South*.

FEBRUARY 22, 2008, 3:30 PM
SCHMITT ACADEMIC CENTER
ROOM 254

James Wolfinger, History Department/School of Education,
DePaul University

“Civil Rights Before King: Carolyn Moore and Black Activism in World War II Philadelphia”

James Wolfinger is author of Philadelphia Divided: Race and Politics in the City of Brotherly Love

History Club Presents

