

FIRST ANNUAL

DEPAUL UNIVERSITY

Interdisciplinary Student Conference

May 30
2012

MOVEMENTS, MIGRATIONS, CROSSING BORDERS

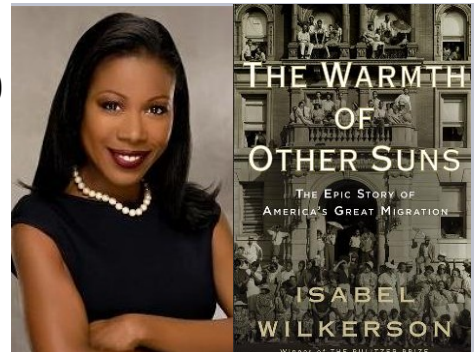

The Conference will be a forum for DePaul students to exchange ideas, perspectives, and approaches relating to any aspect of shifting and crossing borders, domestic and global migration flows, immigration and/or multiculturalism.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Undergraduate and graduate students are invited to submit abstracts (300-500 words) for papers looking at an aspect of boundaries, migration, immigration, or multiculturalism through an interdisciplinary lens.

On or before Feb 15, 2012, email abstracts to Farrad DeBerry at fdeberry@depaul.edu

Cash prizes will be given for the best papers.

The keynote address will be given by Pulitzer Prize winning journalist Isabel Wilkerson, author of The Warmth of Other Suns: The Epic Story of America's Great Migration

The Conference is possible through the generous support of The Provost's Office, The Office of Institutional Diversity, The Dean of College of Humanities and Social Sciences, The Center for Black Diaspora, The Center for Latino Studies, and the Programs of African & Black Diaspora Studies, American Studies, Global Asian Studies, International Studies, Islamic World Studies, Latin American & Latino Studies, Peace, Justice, & Conflict Studies, and Women's and Gender Studies.
