

Help Students Make History

The Chicago Metro History Education Center invites you to make a difference in students' lives by volunteering to judge at a History Fair event this spring. As a judge, you will evaluate exhibits, documentaries, performances, or research papers on topics in Chicago history produced by students in grades 6-8 or 9-12. No previous experience or specialized degrees in history or education are necessary. All we ask is that you have an appreciation for student efforts, an interest in history, and a commitment to quality education. On the day of the History Fair event, you will receive a full orientation and will be paired with a veteran judge.

We need 500 volunteers to make the History Fair happen and would be honored to include you. Please see the many judging opportunities available on the other side of this flyer and select the session that works best for you. Upon receiving your form we will send you a confirmation letter with additional information to help you prepare.
